

ARCOS
FW1213

*We are excited about beautiful,
bounding brass curves.
And subtle, interwoven linen rhythms.
We are getting back to basics.
Brass. Torch. Hammer. Thread.*

*We invoke the warmth
and hidden abundance
of the the colder months.*

*The welcoming gold of wood,
the charcoal grey of stone,
the dark navy of night,
the rust of rainy days.*

*They feel warm, classic,
and good for fall.*

*We have released the grinding, cutting,
hard edges, sharp stones and
efforting of the past.*

*We embrace feminine fluidity and strength,
using our hands to mold the metal.*

*The familiarity of flow,
comfort in the curves.
Casting and weaving.*

*“I hope that you will like the
shapes, and wear them.
And also that they will give you
some pleasure.”*
